

Steel Strike Is Scheduled For Monday-- Pact Rejected

Washington, D. C., Jan. 18 (AP)—The U. S. Steel corporation today rejected President Truman's terms for settling its wage dispute with the CIO steel workers.

The nation-wide steel strike is set for Monday, 12:01 a. m. White House Press Secretary Charles G. Ross said the union had accepted the President's compromise proposal of 18 1/2 cents hourly increase for the 800,000 steel workers poised to walk out of the nation's steel mills.

Washington, Jan. 18 (AP)—The CIO delivered to the White House today a letter described by a union official, who declined direct quotation, as acceptance of President Truman's proposal for settling the steel wage dispute.

David J. McDonald, secretary-treasurer of the steel workers, reached the White House just before the noon deadline set by the President. He came from the President's office at 12:10 p. m. (EST) after delivering the letter, but would not discuss its contents.

Another CIO official told reporters, however, that the union's letter accepted Mr. Truman's compromise wage proposal. This was reported to be an 18 1/2 cent per hour wage increase for 800,000 steel workers.

In New York, Benjamin F. Fairless, president of U. S. Steel, was still in conference with top steel executives when the noon hour arrived. It could not be learned immediately whether he had communicated with the White House by telephone.

Fairless In Conference
At New York, Fairless was reported discussing Mr. Truman's proposal at a conference with associates.

Charles G. Ross, presidential secretary, told newsmen that Fairless and Murray were committed only to answer the President's proposal by noon. He said he thought the replies would come either by telephone or telegraph and promised to make an announcement concerning them shortly after their receipt.

In the meantime, he said there was nothing he could add to last night's announcement that the proposal was made "in the public interest." However, it was reported to involve an increase of 18 1/2 cents an hour.

Philip Murray had lowered his original demand of 25 cents an hour to 19 1/2 cents. The U. S. Steel corporation had offered 15 cents.

May Up Steel Price
While it was learned that steel prices were not discussed in the White House negotiations, the company was said to be aware that government approval of increases of at least $2.50 a ton—and possibly $4—is in the offing for February 1.

Fairless flew to New York with Mr. Truman's proposal, to place it before his board of directors.

Murray called a meeting of his Steelworkers' executive board last night, and summoned the strategy committee of the CIO's big three unions involved in fateful wage disputes—the auto workers, electrical workers, and steelworkers. They scheduled a conference just prior to delivery of the reply to the White House.

Commissioner Asks End of Highway Toll

Harrisburg, Jan. 18 (AP)—Col. C. M. Wilhelm, commissioner of the state police, called for an end today of an "almost unbelievable" increase in traffic deaths.

"Motorists and pedestrians must stop this slaughter," Wilhelm said in a statement. "They can do it by merely exercising common sense caution in walking and driving."

Wilhelm noted that in the first 15 days of this year there were 32 deaths on rural roads, 18 of them pedestrians, "during what we usually consider a comparatively light traffic season."

He reported that in the first 11 months of 1945 there were 629 fatalities on rural highways, 234 pedestrians, and added if the trend continues the record for 1946 "will far outdistance" it.

HOPE OF WORLD LIES IN AMERICA LECTURER SAYS

Inre Kovacs, Danube-born lecturer who told an audience in the Methodist church Thursday night he could talk "for two days on America's imperfections and for two weeks about the hope that lies in America," declared that "if we had as much democracy in Belgrade, Moscow and Chungking as in Gettysburg, this world would be a wonderful place in which to live."

Introduced by the Rev. Floyd A. Carroll, Methodist pastor, as "a living demonstration of a man who has found the way to become a great American although he was not born in this country," Mr. Kovacs, who is a minister and representative of the international YMCA, declared the suffering people of the world look to America as their last hope.

"The people of Poland and Java are looking to America for freedom from the oppressors they suffered before the war—and they are being answered with American-made munitions in the hands of our allies," he said. "Our State Department's only move has been tactfully to ask that American labels be removed from the guns being used to suppress the people."

Proof In America
Describing the centuries - old hatreds between nations and peoples in Europe, Mr. Kovacs told how hatreds are taught in the schools of Europe with each nation teaching its children that it is the "chosen" country and that other nations are to be despised and tolerated only when necessary. "People learn hatred much more quickly than love," he observed and described the fratricidal wars between the Croats and the Serbs in Yugoslavia, "Serbs and Croats living peacefully together in America proving that in a single generation the hatreds and conceits of centuries can be forgotten and that it is possible for human beings to live and worship together if they acknowledge the fatherhood of God and practice the brotherhood of man."

The peoples of Europe don't want Russian or British chains and are rapidly becoming disillusioned by American foreign policy. "The Russian soldier," he added parenthetically, "is the worst propagandist for Russia Stalin possibly could have sent into central Europe."

FFA FOSTERS FATHER AND SON PARTNERSHIPS

The development of father and son partnerships in the management of farms was listed by H. C. Petteolf of the state Department of Public Instruction Thursday night as possibly the greatest gain brought about by the Future Farmers of America organization.

Speaking at the Battletield hotel before 50 leaders of the five FFA chapters of the county who gathered Thursday for an all day leadership meeting, Mr. Petteolf discussed the farming benefits shown since the establishment of the FFA in the state. Each year, he asserted, a check is made on the progress of former FFA members to determine how well their FFA work is turning out in their lives as farmers.

Those annual progress investigations disclose that "the FFA is doing something for our farm boys which was never done before," the educator declared, "the program of vocational agriculture is changing tremendously and I attribute it to the fact that the FFA is doing such great work in cooperative buying."

Benefits from FFA
"We didn't do much cooperative buying before the FFA started, but now the FFA students themselves have found the advantages of cooperative buying and more recently, cooperative selling. Few know the extent to which the FFA is practicing cooperation."

The percentage of ownership of farms among farmers has greatly increased since the FFA program has begun, he added, "but the greatest thing is the great increase in father and son partnerships on farms. That means that in addition to learning how to farm the students are learning how to live on farms and are bringing to the partnerships with their fathers much that is improving the farms."

Another organization meeting will be held at the court house February 21, at 8 p. m. Doctor Bream stressing that anyone interested should feel free to attend.

James G. Bietsch, Chambersburg, president of the Franklin County Community Welfare Council, described the operation of the Franklin county organization, which he said has objectives similar to those of the proposed organization in Adams county.

It was decided that the compiling of a directory would be the major project this year, and those organizations which have not been contacted were asked to furnish their names and representatives to Doctor Bream.

Paul L. Benjamin, executive director of the Public Charities Association, Philadelphia, offered suggestions to the local group. He warned them not to be too ambitious, and to study all problems in the county carefully.

Presbyterian S. S. Donates Books To County Library

The acquisition of 252 volumes of books for adults by the Adams County Free Library from the Sunday school library at the Presbyterian church here was announced today by Miss Kathryn Oller, librarian.

Meanwhile a new mid-week circulation high was reached at the county library on Wednesday when 111 books were borrowed. That figure is second only to last Saturday when 128 volumes were taken out on loan. Registrations this morning totaled 398 at the main library here.

The New Oxford branch library has been opened above Beale's restaurant in center square there and 20 persons already have registered as borrowers. The main library has sent 275 books there from the main library. The branch serves not only the community in general but the New Oxford schools. A large early circulation was reported from that branch.

When asked about statements credited to him in an Associated Press dispatch this morning, Mr. Murray told The Times: "I have made no statements whatsoever to the press."

ADVISORY GROUP ON SURPLUS U. S. GOODS PLANNED

An advisory committee to act as distribution agent for surplus commodities to tax exempt institutions in Adams county will be set up Thursday, January 24, by the county's public and parochial schools, the college and county library.

Robert A. Bream, assistant county superintendent of schools, today announced that representatives of the various tax free organizations of an educational nature will gather at the Gettysburg high school auditorium at 8 p. m. next Thursday to effect organization of the advisory group.

Groups Involved
Representatives from the following organizations will be present for the meeting: County School Directors' association, District School Directors' association, Teachers' Education association, county superintendent of schools, district superintendent of schools, association of colleges and universities, state-aided schools, parochial schools, private schools and the library association.

The advisory committee will elect a county chairman and a county director of Federal Surplus Distribution. The committee will then act as agent for the distribution of surplus commodities to educational institutions in the county.

Two reasons were given for the establishment of the committee to act as a clearing house for information and purchase of surplus federal property for the schools. Because purchases are allowed only of large supplies of goods, rather than by the piece, cooperative buying will take advantage of the surplus property market. Since the stocks are available only for short periods of time the central agency can inform the potential buyers in sufficient time to allow the purchases.

16 KILLED IN PLANE CRASH

Cheshire, Conn., Jan. 18 (AP)—A big transport plane reported to be carrying 13 passengers and a three-man crew crashed in flames here today, carrying all aboard to their deaths.

The big ship was still in flames when first witnesses reached the scene. The crash occurred on a farm about two and a half miles from the center of this town.

A woman attendant at the state reformatory, close to the scene of the accident, said that it appeared that the plane had blown up in the air. She told the Waterbury American over the telephone that it was "a bad accident."

Witnesses said the big plane fell in flames on the Andrews farm on Wolfs Hill road.

Cheshire firemen sped to the scene, and state police said that six dead squad cars carrying 25 troopers had been dispatched.

RACE ISSUE IS PLACED BEFORE S. E. FIREMEN

Applications for membership in the Firemen's Association of Southeastern Pennsylvania henceforth will contain the word "race," as the result of a discussion at the quarterly meeting held in the engine house here Thursday night, and a motion to this effect adopted by the association. More than 100 were in attendance.

The question of negro membership in the association was brought up near the close of the meeting, after Dr. William A. Wolfe, Lancaster, president of the association, reported the holding of a meeting of the officers in Steelton at which he said several matters, not enumerated, were discussed, for presentation to the association at a later date.

John H. Zimmerman, Lebanon, a candidate for the presidency of the state association, requested that Dr. Wolfe inform the meeting of what had been done relative to the negro question. Dr. Wolfe said an amendment to the by-laws had been discussed, which would require an applicant for membership to be "male and white," but that no action could be taken until the annual meeting.

Speakers Said They Sought to Avoid "Abuses" at Functions Held in Connection with the Southeastern Association. They Cited "trouble" which started when six negroes, three men and three women, attended a picnic near Harrisburg last summer. Penbrook, adjacent to Harrisburg, has a negro fire company, it was pointed out.

John E. Shupp, treasurer of the association, said there were negro fire companies in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, and that in 1914, two negro delegates attended the state convention.

The credentials committee reported that it had no way of knowing, from the existing application blanks for membership, the applicant's color. The change in the membership blanks to include the word "race" was made to take care of this matter.

Heiges Extends Welcome
The meeting was opened by Dr. Wolfe with the singing of one verse of "America," followed by a scripture reading and prayer by the chaplain of the association, Alpheus M. Angstadt, Lancaster.

HIGH PRICES PROBLEM FOR SPAIN'S PEOPLE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE (AP World Traveler)

Madrid, Jan. 18.—Spain's high cost of living—like that of other countries—puts the wage earned rather in the position of the small boy who can't reach the jam on the pantry shelf.

The average pay of the laboring man is from a dollar to $1.35 a day. Even skilled labor as a whole gets the latter figure, and $1.75 is exceptional.

Naturally the cost of necessities isn't on speaking terms with such wages, or anything like them. The worker has to resort to the black market for many of his necessities and the prices are five times those fixed by the government for rationing. The result is that the person of small means can't buy meat, sugar, eggs, butter or other similar items in the food line, and is equally hard hit when it comes to clothing.

Hunger Not a Trial

One of the greatest hardships lies in the cost of olive oil, which is a prime necessity.

The Spaniards use olive oil for about everything except bathing. It not only goes into many dishes, but much of the food is cooked in it. The average family uses over 20 quarts of olive oil per month, and the cost runs anywhere from $1.40 to more than $2 per quart.

Mrs. Mack and I have been sleuthing about among people of small means to discover how they manage to get along. And get along they do, for while there is undernourishment (and always has been) and hardship among some sections of the poorest classes, yet foreign observers who live here say that hunger is not one of the trials of the workers as a whole.

Farmers Better Off

How do poor folk manage? Well, to begin with, every member of the family who is able to earn money goes out to work—papa, mama and all the youngsters who are big enough. No, the children don't attend school if they're needed as bread winners. They find small jobs, or in some cases beg—and arduous youngsters they are, too.

As for food, the mainstay of the poor man is bread and soup. These days the soup is likely to run pretty thin, but when the right ingredients can be found, it's really a grand dish. If it's properly made it calls for plenty of little chick peas, which are boiled with potatoes and perhaps other vegetables along with a piece of meat or at least some fat. When this dish is done it is served as two courses, and the eyes of the worker shone with appreciation as he told me about it. The liquid soup is poured off and eaten first. Then the pease pudding which is left in the pot is served up for the final course.

Most of the actual want is in the cities. The farm hand is more fortunately placed than most, because he demands and gets part of his wages in food, for which he is charged the normal price.

FFA FOSTERS

tion, State College, was another speaker at the dinner session concluding the all-day conference. Speaking on "Developing Qualities of Leadership," the State College educator listed the limits of leadership: ability, personality, ideals, skills, interests, character, attitudes, habits and knowledge. "It does not matter where you stand today in those classifications, it's where you will stand in future years, in all classifications you can improve yourselves. It's up to you."

Virgil Hartman, president of the Battlefield (Gettysburg) chapter of the FFA was toastmaster at the dinner session. L. C. Keefeauver, superintendent of the Gettysburg schools, and Elmer Gruver, East Berlin school principal, were other speakers.

Two group sessions, on "Duties and Responsibilities of Chapter Officers" and "Building and Carrying out a Program of Work" occupied most of the afternoon meeting at the Gettysburg high school. Jack Clinch, Gettysburg vocational agriculture teacher, was leader for the presidents and vice presidents group; Carroll Thompson, East Berlin ag. teacher and Doctor Dickinson led the secretaries; John Kratzert, New Oxford agricultural education teacher, the treasurers, and Cecil Snyder, Biglerville ag. teacher, the reporters.

Learn Parliamentary Law

Financing of the FFA chapters and parliamentary procedure studies occupied much of the sessions both during the morning and afternoon.

Doctor Dickinson lectured on parliamentary procedure and then staged a model parliament with the FFA youngsters taking part by distributing numbered cards containing what each member was to say. He then held up numbers with each person having that number on his card reading the part assigned him.

In regard to finances the FFA men were told not to become so interested in making money that they forget the ideals of the FFA. Community employment in which members raise money by helping farmers with their work was suggested as a method of raising funds.

OFFICER TELLS OF JAP ORDERS FOR EXECUTIONS

By MORRIE LANDSBERG

Tokyo, Jan. 18 (AP)—A U. S. Navy captain said Thursday that Japanese guards had orders to kill all Allied prisoners of war in event of Allied amphibious or skyborne landings in Japan.

Capt. Manuel A. Newman, who said he was the last American officer to surrender on Guam Dec. 11, 1941, told of the extermination plans as he arrived to testify against former prison administrators.

"When I read of the war trials," said the 47-year old Texas-born captain, "I didn't think convicted Japanese were getting heavy enough penalties. I thought I'd come back and do what I could to see some of them punished."

First to Appear in Person

Of three Japanese tried to date, one was sentenced to death and two were given life prison sentences. Evidence submitted by liberators was through affidavits. Newman may be the first Allied witness to testify in atrocity cases.

Newman, tall and erect, said in an interview that a fellow prisoner in a Tokyo area camp overheard the execution orders read in Japanese to a group of guards. Later, Newman related, his guard confirmed the fate in store for the prisoners when Allied troops invaded Japan.

"We all expected to be knocked off, but by golly if it was necessary to win the war, we would have been willing to give our lives," he said.

Newman told of being beaten and of seeing others knocked insensible for petty violations; of two men forced to stand shoeless and coatless in snow all night; of a 6-foot, 200-pound American whose weight dropped to 57 pounds before he died.

Record Of 28th Is Called 'Challenge'

Phoenixville, Pa., Jan. 18 (AP)—The record of Pennsylvania's famed 28th Infantry Division "should be an incentive and a challenge" for the new outfit which will take its place, says Maj. Gen. Norman D. Cota.

The general who commanded the "Bloody Bucket" 28th until its deactivation last December is undergoing medical examination at Valley Forge General hospital.

Gen. Cota said the part of the division in the Battle of the Bulge was its most glorious achievement, adding:

"It was gratifying to stay with it (the division) to the very end. We look to the people of Pennsylvania to give it a rebirth."

One of the assets of the 28th, said the officer, was the tradition and accomplishments of the old 28th of World War I.

Justice of the Peace Robert H. Kepler said the other charges were indecent assault, subordination of perjury, corrupting the morals of a minor, aiding and abetting statutory assault, lewdness, and compounding a felony.

Her husband, George, headmaster of Warminster academy, a co-educational military school, is being held without bail for grand jury action. He was given a hearing last Monday on a charge of statutory assault.

CASH BASIS SOON FOR WALL STREET

New York, Jan. 18 (AP)—Wall street prepared to go on a cash and carry basis today as the government acted to curb speculation in the current bull market by ordering 100 per cent margin requirements on security transactions for the first time in history.

A Federal Reserve board ruling late yesterday raised margin requirements from 75 to 100 per cent, effective Monday.

Some brokers who preferred to remain anonymous frankly expressed doubt the action would put a brake on speculation.

In financial circles the move had been expected for several weeks. Stock prices have advanced almost daily to within approach of the 1929 level. The inflationary aspect of the rise has become of increasing concern to authorities.

In making the announcement, Marriner S. Eccles, chairman of the Federal Reserve board, declared: "There is no further recourse left to the board so far as restraining speculative activities in listed stocks is concerned, except possibly to order all existing margin accounts be put on a cash basis and to make some of the administrative provisions applying to banks more rigid."

Mr. Wagner announced that the state firemen's convention will be held in York October 1 and 2. He said that York had taken the convention with the understanding that there would be no parade, but he added that, while the executive committee has not acted on it, "the way it looks now, it is not whether we are going to have a parade, but how we are going to keep them from having one."

Housing Problem

Mr. Wagner announced that he was in charge of housing reservations, and that the officers of both the state association and the state auxiliary would be taken care of first in the reservations at the Yorktown, convention headquarters. The hotel has allocated only 65 rooms, he said, but declared he was hopeful that more might be available by October. There will be no single room reservations, he said.

The association gave a rising vote of thanks to the Gettysburg firemen for their entertainment here, and voted to accept an invitation to hold the next quarterly meeting in April at Carlisle. Lunch and refreshments were served at the engine house following adjournment of the business meeting.

live in peace—not so that world powers could be enriched and empire lines preserved.

"May God help us all to pray and dream and talk and write letters so that the whole world may be as fine a place in which to live as Gettysburg—that's the challenge of being an American."

A brief devotional service preceded the address and included several hymns, a prayer and a scripture reading from Isaiah by the pastor. An offering was received to help finance the series of public forums initiated Thursday evening. The next will be held February 5 with Dr. Norman Vincent Peale as the speaker and the next February 19 when Dr. Ralph Sockman will speak.

To Recommend Six Locations For UNO

Boston, Jan. 18 (AP)—A seven-man committee designated to select sites for both temporary and permanent headquarters of the United Nations expects to recommend six locations for interim accommodations.

Dr. Stoyan Gravitovic, of Yugoslavia, chairman of the committee, indicated in an interview Wednesday that the group was favorably impressed with facilities offered by Atlantic City, N. J., and White Plains, N. Y., but added that "no decision has been made yet." He said two to four sites "probably" would be recommended in the vicinity of Boston.

Dr. Gravitovic said that general assembly of the world peace agency planned to arrive in the United States in February, indicating that considerable urgency existed in finding suitable temporary quarters.

He said that three to five years probably would be required to construct the permanent international city which would not bear the imprint of any particular nation's architecture.

Martin States His Confidence In Board

Harrisburg, Jan. 18 (AP)—Voicing "every confidence" in his liquor control board, Governor Martin said Wednesday he would "fire it" if he didn't feel otherwise.

His statement followed a request to comment on published reports that the board had ignored his instructions in suspending licenses instead of revoking them in cases of violators cited for sales to intoxicated persons.

Martin said he understands that cases in which such action was taken "had been acted on" by the board before his instructions in connection with strict enforcement of laws against reckless drivers and other law violators were issued.

"I delegate to the liquor board certain things to do," he added, "but I don't tell them how to do it."

MECHANICSBURG NAVY QUINTET FACES BULLETS

Bolstered by the addition this week of Ensign Jack Bonner, a former basketball player at Notre Dame university, the Mechanicsburg Naval Supply Depot quintet will come here Saturday night confident of halting the six-game winning streak of the Gettysburg college bullets.

Coach "Hen" Bream and his lads are gaining national recognition due their perfect record, being among the few college quintets in the country to be undefeated.

Mechanicsburg, despite a recent defeat at the hands of Juniata at Huntingdon, has compiled an excellent record and should prove a worthy foe for the Bulls.

The following are scheduled to start for the Navy outfit: Stark and Thayer, forwards; Henry, center, and Bacom and Lemax, guards.

There will be no change in the Bull lineup. Cal Welliver and Spike Kaczowski will be the forwards, Joe Howard will play the center position with Davey Plank and Roger Herr performing as guards.

No preliminary game will be played. Saturday's contest will start at 8 o'clock.

Waynesboro Cagers Play Here Tonight

Tonight the Gettysburg high basketballers will attempt to get back on their winning stride when they clash with Waynesboro high on the local court in a southern division game of the South Penn league.

The reserve teams will clash in the preliminary at 7 o'clock. Waynesboro brings a team here that has flashed excellent form at times and at others has been just the opposite. The Tornado points with pride to its recent victory over Scotland, the only team to defeat Chambersburg this season.

Coach George Forney and his charges are taking no chances and are ready for a stiff tussle. The Maroons must sweep all of their remaining league tilts to stay in the running for the loop title.

Trainer Marnie Seamon says he has all of Joe Louis' training equipment locked up in his house and can get it out in ten minutes. . . . If Andy Gustafson takes the Pitt football coaching job, as it has been rumored, a lot of rivals may start catching up with Army in about two or three years—and will they rub it in!

When the Pittsburgh Steelers recently signed Dr. Jock Sutherland as coach, Prez Art Rooney received the following congratulatory message from some of his Miami pals: "That's great news. It's like a parlay on Seabiscuit and Man O' War. The Steelers will be on top from flag fall to the wire. They will be earning brackets every time out. We'll be there for the parade to the post next fall." . . . Art pocketed the wire. "I'm afraid our new coach won't know what they're talking about," he explained.

"DRAFT MARTIN" MOVE UNDERWAY

Harrisburg, Jan. 18 (AP)—A movement to "draft" Governor Martin for the U. S. Senate came to light among Pennsylvania Republicans today with the backing of State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor.

Taylor called on all 67 county chairmen to join in a drive to help persuade Martin to be a candidate in the party's May 21 primary after declaring the governor has been "very reluctant" to enter the race.

Coincidentally, another prominent Pennsylvanian—Gen. Carl Spaatz of the Army Air Forces—let it be known he would be "indefinite for a long time" about any move to make him the Democratic nominee for governor.

Governor Martin, who cannot school himself, has been mentioned hold a narrow advantage over those in line.

Par cracking was fast and furious in the first round. Trailing Hamilton by a single stroke were 69-shooters Joe Brown, Des Moines, Iowa; Armand Farina, Schenectady, N. Y.; Jimmy Hines, Chicago; Toney Penna, Dayton, Ohio; John Perelli, Lake Tahoe, Calif., and the leading amateur, Charles Stohlhand, Ponca City, Okla.

Firing Tables Made On Penn Campus

Philadelphia, Jan. 18 (AP)—Many complicated firing tables—the mechanisms which made possible the high accuracy of the army's artillery fire during the war—were made on the University of Pennsylvania campus.

Details of the project were revealed today following termination of previously "top-secret" war contracts under which the university's for months as the probable GOP choice for the seat now held by U. S. Senator Joseph F. Guffey, a Democrat, expected to seek re-election to a third term.

Martin's immediate reaction to the draft movement was undetermined. His office said, upon inquiry, that the governor was not informed of the drive in advance.

Moore School of Electrical Engineering aided the army's ordnance department.

Officials said the firing tables, many reducing as many as 500,000 individual mathematical calculations, were produced under the supervision of Col. Leslie E. Simon, director of ordnance ballistic research laboratory at the Aberdeen Proving Ground, Aberdeen, Md.

In addition to making the tables, officials said, the Moore school participated in studies of experimental rocket-firing; preparing bombing tables which the ordnance department supplied to the Army Air Corps; analyzed fragmentation and dispersion of targets, and made studies relative to the design of new shells and bombs.

BACHELORDOM

What do bachelors think about,
Having but themselves to care for,
No one running in and out,
None to buy new things to wear
for,
No one on their knees to climb,
None with shoes that should be mended?
How do bachelors spend their time
When the busy day is ended?

Are the bachelors, night and day,
As the saying goes, "In Clover"?
What, with business cars away,
Do they find to worry over?
Dull, I think, their nights must be;
Boredom grim past all denying;
Never getting up to see
What has set the baby crying.

Books and pipes don't seem enough;
Cards no source of self-forgetting,
Pride and peace need sterner stuff;
Both require long hours of fretting, Hearts need fear and dread and
doubt,
Rasping coughs and fever flurries,
Loved ones off to think about.
What do bachelors do for worries?

BEAUTY

How little we realize the power of beauty in the world. Even those who apparently pay no attention to beauty are greatly influenced by it. The Creator must have placed a high value upon beauty, for you see it in everything that He created. Flowers, stones, trees with their symmetrical branches and intricate leaves, sea shells, clouds, the snowflake, the plumage of birds and other fowl, the grassy earth, ferns and low shrubbery, fruits and vegetables in their colored garbs, and in fact whatever the eye beholds in Nature. Thus it was that in the earliest times men and women sought to create beauty from the examples about them. Beautiful architecture, rare carvings, vases, rugs, tapestries, sculptured gold and silver, and cut and polished stones. And from all these creations, adaptations have resulted. Women's beautiful gowns, exquisite furniture, stained glass windows, marbled walls, and other things of beauty—endlessly.

To a greater or lesser extent, everyone born inherits this love of beauty. The child early shows it in its attraction to color. Wherever you go you will note beauty—natural beauty and created beauty. How beautiful is the flight of a great bird. How its skill fascinates one, yet its flight in itself is the acme of beauty. How beautiful are the heavens on a clear, cloudless, cool night! All beauty fills one with wonder. We want beautiful things about us, no matter how simple or inexpensive. They affect us inside. Henry Ward Beecher once said that you couldn't make a church too beautiful. I agree. You can't make anything too beautiful! Beauty is the clothing of our spiritual and intellectual aspirations. Beauty of thought and expression lives on. It is self-creative.

A big percentage of books sold because of their beautiful makeup. A friend of mine only recently sold his home and bought one that faced the sunsets. When you worship beauty you worship God.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "God's Clouds."

BLEAK OUTLOOK IN MEAT STRIKE; SUPPLY SHRINKS

Washington, Jan. 18 (AP)—The meat situation looked bleaker today.

There was no sign government efforts would bring a quick settlement in the three-day-old strike of 263,000 meat-packing workers.

A federal fact-finding board opened a study on the strike's wage issue, but its report is not due until February 16—20 days hence.

The fact-finders promised, however, to act promptly on any agreement possibility that would bring a settlement in the walkout before that date.

No Modifications
Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach, who invited all sides to Washington in connection with a futile effort to avert the walkout, ended four hours of conferences last night.

Edwin E. Witte, chairman of the fact-finding panel named by the secretary yesterday, took up the conference today. His associates on the panel, Clark Kerr, chairman of the War Labor Board meat-packing commission, and Chief Justice Raymond W. Starr of the Michigan supreme court, are not due in Washington until tomorrow, Witte said.

APL representatives said they had not modified their demand for 15 cents an hour wage increase; CIO spokesmen declared their demand remained at an immediate increase of 17½ cents, with an additional 7½ cents to be negotiated later. Company spokesmen reiterated that any wage adjustment must be tied to a price increase.

SEVEN GENERALS ON NEW LIST OF JAP CRIMINALS

Tokyo, Jan. 18 (AP)—General MacArthur ordered the arrest of 110 more Japanese war criminal suspects, including seven generals, and counter-intelligence officers arrested the long-missing Dr. Ba Maw, puppet premier of Burma.

In Peiping, Chinese arrested Maj. Gen. Eugene Ott, Nazi ambassador to Tokyo at the time Pearl Harbor was attacked, and announced he would be brought to Japan for questioning by MacArthur's war crimes staff.

The 110 additional war crimes suspects listed for arrest included Gen. Takeji Wachi, former chief of staff of Japanese general headquarters, and a half-dozen other generals, as well as prison camp officers and guards from the Solomons to Honshu to Truk.

The surprise arrest of Dr. Maw, Burmese puppet whose whereabouts since the end of the war have been a mystery, was confirmed by Brig. Gen. E. R. Thorpe, head of Allied counter-intelligence. He declined to say where Maw is being held.

"He will be placed incommunicado, like other top prisoners," Thorpe added.

Move To Retain Emperor
Maw, once premier of Burma under the British, later headed the Japanese puppet regime in his country. He disappeared by the time Allied forces reoccupied Burma.

Japanese small businessmen meanwhile rushed plans for a "league for safeguarding the emperor" to advocate a nationwide plebiscite on retention of the emperor system. Jiji New Agency reported.

Hicwa is being held in a stockade outside Yokohama. Correspondents have not been permitted to interview him pending MacArthur's review, which will be final.

Senator Stanfill, (R-Ky) disclosed yesterday in Washington he has cabled Gen. MacArthur a request the execution be stayed "until complete testimony of the court martial has been reviewed."

Baltimore Livestock

CATTLE—Receipts at the close of the week extremely light, no light in fact that even with the absence of big packer buyers, local slaughterers unable to buy enough cattle to finish off the week's slaughter.
Only a few big packers forced to close their plants due to the meat packing strike and both big and small independent slaughterers along with outside buyers quickly absorbed daily receipts. The Stock-Carriers Company continued to be announce that the Baltimore Yards would be open to trading daily.

In today's trading all slaughter cattle sold as fast as they could be moved from the unloading dock into seller's pens. All slaughter classes at unevenly higher prices.
In the steer division two loads of average-good short-fed steers outside interests at $17.25, these averaged around 1,090 lbs.
A few truck lots of low and average-good short-fed steers, $15-$16.75. Only an odd head or two of medium grade steers around $13.50. Good short-fed heifers, $14-$15

$13, a few high-yielding individuals $12.50-$14. Canners and cutters $7.50-$9.50 with bulls offered $14-$15. Good healthy sau-rage bulls $13-$14.50 with cutter, common and medium grades $10-$12.50.

CALVES—Cull calves, receipts and continued broad local demand for vealers and weighty slaughter calves created a very active trading season with prices fully steady to strong as compared with Wednesday. Mixed lots of good and choice 120-150 lb. vealers, $15.50 only $14.50. Common and medium grades $9.50-$14.50 with select sales starting at $11. Culls around $7.50 with extreme lightweights as low as $5. Good weighty slaughter calves $14 with common

Enchanted Journey

By Helen R. Woodward

Chapter 27
In a few moments Edith was knocking at the door of Burk Angus' house. It seemed an interminable time before he opened it and stood before her in pajamas and dressing-gown.

"Edith—darling!"
She spoke quickly, breathless with the urgency of her errand. "Go up to Roselands at once, Burk! Barbara is having her baby and—and she's very ill!"

"But—" he began through blanching lips.

"Grandmother sent for you," she explained. "Don't stop for anything.
I must go find my father. The telephone lines are down and we can't call anyone."

"I'll go at once," he said. And she was down the path and off
on her other, harder errand.

There were rows of cars surrounding the old residence that had once been a proud family home, but had been converted into a gambling house with a "front" of dancing and drinking. The negro attendant with a flash-light assisted her in parking and then stared goggle-eyed when a lone girl in a rumpled summer dress descended to the path. Evidently, from the appearance of the station wagon, he had expected a large party.

"Do you know Mr. Whitney Lacey?"
"Yes, ma'am."
"Is he here tonight?"
"Yes, ma'am. Want me to get him for you, ma'am?"

Edith breathed a sigh of relief.
"No—he might not want to come unless I go after him myself. Just —just keep my car clear for me, will you? I won't be long."

"Yes, ma'am."
Inside the air was thick and blue with cigarette smoke. A floor show was in progress and ladders of smoke penetrated the brilliance of the spot light centered on a Spanish dancer in a crimson shawl.

The doorman, a dark, foreign-looking man, approached Edith in alarm, a question mark plain in his eye. There was a look about him that suggested he was going to put this rumpled, unescorted, wild-haired girl out, so Edith spoke quickly.

"I must see my father—Whitney
Lacey!"
She saw the look in his eyes change. "He's upstairs. I'll go get him."

"No, I'll go myself."
"You wouldn't like it up there,
Miss Lacey."

"I don't like it down here, either!"
She swept aside his arm and his protest with one gesture. The orchestra blared suddenly, as if highlighting her progress up the wide, deep-carpeted stairs. She knew the foreign-looking man was behind her, not yet sure of her intentions. Another attendant approached her cautiously at the head of the stairway.

"Let her by!" the man behind her said cryptically. "Mr. Lacey's daughter!"

Up here the air was cleared and studded with the clink of chips, the unmistakable rattle of dice around the board. It was as if these men were too busy to smoke. Whit stood in the center of a close packed crowd and, as old Eugenia had prophesied, a loud, plump woman hung on his arm. His face was lighted with excitement and Edith saw that he looked not too drunk and very handsome.

She pushed through the crowd and grasped his arm. He shook her off, not turning. Then Edith's voice, alight with fury, pierced his concentration.

"Whit Lacey!"
He turned then and his surprise
at seeing her was almost ludicrous.
"What the devil—!" he began.

She would not speak Barbara's name in this place, before this cheap woman. "You must come home at once! It's urgent!"

But Whit spoke it, with a sudden tightening of his lean jaw. "Barbara?"

"Yes, hurry."
He threw his chips carelessly down on the table, stuffed some bills in his pocket. The crowd fell back as father and daughter made their way out of the room, down the steps, out of the house. Whit did not answer the "goodnights" that followed them. He was in front of Edith now. She had to run to keep up with him. If he'd only run to her sooner, Edith thought. Maybe it's too late now.

"Come with me in the station wagon," she said quietly. "We'll send back for your car later."

She took the wheel and he climbed in beside her. "Is she very bad?"
"Very."

"I didn't know—it was time."
You should have known, Edith thought, but she didn't answer.
You should have cared enough to stay at home. The silence between them held until they were passing through the town again. There was the station where she had first seen Whit, where she had thought, "We're so much alike!" They weren't alike, thank heaven! She knew that now.
She was not weak like Whit!

"I suppose you think I'm pretty terrible!"
He was like a small boy begging pardon. A small boy who would be naughty again as soon as that pardon was granted. He was pitiful.
Edith thought, it's always pitiful,
when a man gains the stature of a man and yet remains a boy inside.

"I'm thinking only of Barbara,"
she said briefly.

Out into the country again. The first flush of the early summer dawn was brightening the eastern sky now. Banners of deep rose, shading to orange, were flung gaily across the sky.

Edith turned the car into the drive-way between the high gate-posts. Stopped before the portico.
And as they descended and reached the foot of the steps, the great front door opened and Burk Angus came out.

His face was torn with grief and suffering, but when he saw them a look of such anger as they had never seen swept over his features.
He took no apparent notice of Edith,
but came down to meet Whit Lacey.

FILIBUSTER ON FEPC IN SENATE

Washington, Jan. 18 (AP)—The wordiest filibuster since Huey Long's time threatened on Capitol hill today as the Senate plunged into a knock-down, drag-out fight on the dynamite-packed FEPC bill.

The advance billing had Capitol hill marking back to the 30's when Long, as senator from Louisiana, went on a filibuster marathon during which he discoursed on a myriad of subjects, including the merits of southern "pot likker."

A solid phalanx of southern senators, all pledged to talk plenty, lined his body shaking with his anguish.

"She's dead!" he said in a voice that sent shivers of terror through Edith's body. "You killed her! And I hope I never set eyes on another damn Lacey as long as I live!"

Russians Establish Selves In Kuriles

Washington, Jan. 18 (P)—Russia was reported Thursday to be establishing herself firmly in the strategic Kurile island chain flanking the approaches to Siberia.
It was from a rendezvous in these foggy Japanese islands that Admiral Yamamoto's fleet set out in late November, 1941, for its attack on Pearl Harbor.
Whether a peace settlement will decree the permanent annihilation of the Kuriles from the Japanese empire still remains to be decided.
Meanwhile, government officials here in a position to know, said that Russia already has sent in troops with "bag and baggage" and their families—apparently for a long stay. These officials cannot be identified by name. Agreement upon Russian occupation of these islands, stretching like a giant scimitar across the entrance to the Sea of Okhotsk, was reached at the Potsdam conference.

RUSSIA SILENT IN IRAN ISSUE

London, Jan. 18 (P)—The Iranian delegation to the United Nations general assembly today took the first concrete steps to bring the explosive Iranian-Russian dispute before the World Security Council as Soviet delegates maintained complete silence on the issue.

Andrei Gromyko, acting chief of the Soviet delegation, making the first major Russian speech before the assembly, ignored the Iranian question, which was causing serious concern among United Nations leaders. Shortly before Gromyko took the floor Seyed Hassan Taqizadeh, chief of the Iranian delegation, conferred with the executive secretary of the assembly on what Taqizadeh called "technical arrangements" for placing Iran's complaints before the Security Council.

Gromyko told the assembly that the future peace of the world depends upon the unity of the big powers and warned against any efforts to cut down their authority by

ORCHARD SPRAYERS

"Iron Age" power take-off tractor-trailer orchard sprayers are complete sprayer units with tractor hitch, tractor power take-off drive and new safety shield. Power take-off uses tractor engine to operate spray pump. Tank and pump are mounted on a rigid steel frame, bolted to the axle. Iron Age tractor-trailer power take-off outfits with 14-gallon pump and larger are equipped with a heavy duty Timken bearing PTO unit with complete set of universal joints, slip shaft and tube for coupling onto tractor. Truck is made up of two wheels and straight through axle. The frame, not the tank, supports the axle. Streamlined hood is designed without corners or projections that might catch branches. Drawbar is adjustable for several heights of hitch and is fitted with an adjustable leg for support when not in use. Wheels for tires or steel wheels are furnished optional and are interchangeable. Various tank sizes for each size pump. Top or rear spray platforms, tank filler, hose and gun equipment are available.

Sprayers can be converted into row crop machines or combination orchard and row crop models by adding proper boom equipment and by changing position of axle and wheels for proper row width and under clearance.

We have one 400 gallon sprayer on display. Stop and get further information.

FIVE ARE HURT IN TWO CRASHES OVER WEEK - END

Five persons were injured, none seriously, in two motor vehicle accidents on Adams county highways over the week-end.

Three were injured when cars driven by Ernest C. Harbaugh, 29, Fairfield R. 1, and Samuel Abner Turner, Emmitsburg R. 1, collided five miles west of Fairfield on the Zora-Blue Ridge Summit road Saturday at 5 p. m. Damage caused by the accident was estimated at $175.

They were Ananias Turner, 65, suffering from lacerations of the forehead and scalp, admitted to the Warner hospital after the accident and discharged Sunday, and Mrs. Elizabeth Turner, 60, who suffered bruises of the chin, and John Turner, 27, lacerations of the forehead, both of whom were treated at the scene by Dr. Ira Henderson, Fairfield. All are from Emmitsburg R. 1.

According to State Trooper George Evanko, who investigated the accident, Harbaugh, who was driving east allowed his car to get too far to the left on a sharp right curve and sideswiped the Turner car. Evanko plans to lay a charge of failure to yield one half of the highway against Harbaugh before Justice of the Peace Ellis Stine, Fairfield R. 1.

Crash on Mt. Newman
Two others, injured in an accident on Mt. Newman Saturday night at 11:05 p. m., were treated at the Chambersburg hospital. They were Paul Hutton, 21, Waynesboro R. 2, who had a sprained neck and lacerations of the right hand, and Thomas A. Larkin, Jr., 26, Alexandria, Va., who suffered bruises to the left leg and shoulder and lacerations to the left eye.

Larkin, driver of one of the vehicles in the accident occurring on Lincoln highway about halfway up Mt. Newman, paid a fine and costs on a charge of reckless driving before Justice of the Peace William Dentler, Cashtown. The charge was laid by State Trooper George Ackerson, who investigated. According to Ackerson, Larkin was driving east on a curve and ran into the rear of a truck-trailer driven by James Fletcher Tomlinson, Nashville, Tenn., which was going west. Damage to Larkin's car was estimated at $300. No estimate of damage was given for the truck-trailer which upset.

AUXILIARY TO FURNISH ROOM

Plans for remodeling the new post home were outlined Monday evening at the first meeting of the year of the local Ladies' Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Mrs. Ellen Oyler was named as chairman of the furniture committee with the auxiliary planning to furnish one room of the new home. Other members of the committee include Mrs. Enoch, Mrs. Knipple, Mrs. Cromwell, Mrs. Carver, Mrs. Sanders, Mrs. Swope and Mrs. Martin.

Mrs. Donald Jacobs was placed in charge of arrangements for special entertainment for visiting officers February 14. It was announced that "Veterans" written by Mrs. Mary E. Kitzmiller, Gettysburg, and dedicated to the VFW, will be broadcast next Sunday over Radio Station WMAL Washington by Claud Ward between 10 and 10:30 p. m.

Twenty-eight members attended the session held in the IOOP rooms on Chambersburg street.

WAVE AND WAC FILE DISCHARGES

Eleven former gobs and one Adams county girl who served in the WAVES were among those who filed their discharges at the court house late Monday and Tuesday for recording.

The navy discharges were: MM 3/c Russell Edward Johnson, Water Tender 2/c Gerald Joseph Smith, MM 1/c Maurice Joseph Smith, S 1/c Frank Theodore Lowe, MM 3/c Francis George Herring, S 1/c Carlton Leroy Jacobs, MM 3/c John Franklin Teal, Jr., Ph.M. 2/c Josephine Virginia Weikert, Ph.M. 1/c George Harding Allamond, S 1/c Harold Clinton Clapsaddle and MM 3/c Thomas Robert Gilling. Others who filed included: Cpl. Harrison G. Fair, Gardners R. 2; T/3 Mary C. Poist, New Oxford; Pfc. Richard S. Keckler, Emmitsburg; Pvt. Ivan A. Shultz, Gettysburg R. 2; Sgt. Raymond L. Fair, Gettysburg R. 1; Aviation Cadet Elton L. Kessel, Gettysburg, and Cpl. Richard B. Naugle, Gettysburg.

Many Dog Owners Are Buying Tags

Adams county residents are being more prompt this year in obtaining licenses for their dogs. County Treasurer Donald C. Stallsmith said Tuesday, Th. 1945 licenses expired Tuesday, and Mr. Stallsmith said the number of 1946 tags bought was far ahead of this time a year ago.

In spite of this fact, the countians are still slow in obtaining their dog license, he said, estimating that only a little more than a quarter of the total have been purchased. To help dog owners, Mr. Stallsmith said licenses and tags would be mailed, if return postage is included with the fee. The license for male and spayed female dogs is $1.10 and for females $2.10.

RECORD SALE OF T-B SEALS HAS AIDED PROGRAM

The tuberculosis control program for 1946 is underway in Adams county under the direction of the Adams County Tuberculosis society and is being financed by the most successful Christmas seal sale in the history of the county organization.

The receipts from Christmas seal sales already have topped any previous year and society officers say the figure does not yet represent complete returns. The current figure is $2,487.76.

Dr. L. C. Keefe, president of the society said that the skin testing of high school freshmen, athletes, teachers and any others in the high schools who have not previously been checked has been completed and that the x-ray examination of reactors to the skin test has been started. The x-ray examinations have been suspended for the present due to a shortage of x-ray films due to strikes but will be resumed as soon as the film becomes available.

Funds Put to Good Use
"This program of tuberculosis prevention and health promotion is made possible by the Christmas seal sale," Doctor Keefe said. Reports from other parts of the state indicate, he added, that the sum raised locally compares well with results of drives in other communities.

He urged that persons who have not yet made their returns to the association do so promptly. "Some people, he pointed out, may have mislaid the seal letters among other pre-holiday mail. "We hope many of those who have not yet responded will do so promptly for the money is used for important activities in the control and prevention of tuberculosis, especially among the schoolchildren of the county," he asserted.

PETITION FOR ROAD REPAIR

At a meeting of the Fairfield Chamber of Commerce, the following resolution was formally adopted and submitted to the Pennsylvania Department of Highways for consideration:

"We, the undersigned, citizens, taxpayers, and voters, residents of Adams county, Pennsylvania, and users of the state highway 116, leading from Gettysburg to Fairfield, in said Adams county, Pennsylvania, hereby petition the Department of Highways of Pennsylvania, as follows:

1. To add two feet to the berm on each side of the aforesaid highway 116, leading from Gettysburg to Fairfield.
2. To have the said highway 116, leading from Gettysburg to Fairfield, covered by asphalt.
3. To abate the hazard of the one-lane bridge on said highway over Marsh Creek by raising the approaches of said bridge to make the approaches level with the bridge and to make a two-lane passage over the said bridge, but not to remove or destroy the old bridge that is now over the creek."

County Treasurer Gets Sinking Fund

Retiring County Treasurer John W. Brehm Thursday turned over to his successor, Donald C. Stallsmith, $17,949.23 in the sinking fund which was set up a dozen years ago to retire $20,000 in highway bonds. The fund has been drawing 2 per cent interest, Mr. Brehm said.

Atty. William L. Meals was named new attorney for the sinking fund committee, succeeding Atty. Eugene V. Buleit. Mr. Stallsmith is treasurer of the fund and Clarence C. Smith, chief clerk of the county commissioners' office is secretary.

SAILORS FOUND CHRISTMAS JOY IN GIFT BOXES

The joy American sailors received from Red Cross Christmas boxes similar to those prepared in Adams county last year is described in a letter written Christmas day by a former countian.

Lt. Com. Oscar D. MacMillan, commanding officer of the USS Heylinger, a destroyer escort, in the Pacific wrote to his aunt, Miss Margaret McMillan, executive secretary of the Adams County Red Cross:

"I am writing today from my ship anchored off Iwo Jima (the letter was written Christmas day). We were destined for a rather cheerless Christmas at sea when chance orders brought us here. The Red Cross field director on Iwo Jima made available a Christmas gift for each man on board for which I was very thankful since our Christmas mail had not caught up with us due to recent movements.

Candlelight Service
"Last night we had a simple candlelight service in the forward mess hall with one of our lads playing a little folding organ and another who has had some theological training conducting the service. At their request I read the Christmas story and I believe every man attending got a lot from the service, simple though it was.

"I have written to thank the Boston Chapter of the American Red Cross which was responsible for our getting the Christmas packages given us by the field director. "I don't think that any station anywhere could have been more grateful to receive them than we were."

The Christmas boxes were made by volunteer groups under the direction of the Red Cross throughout the United States. The women of the Moose of Gettysburg filled nine boxes under the direction of the Camp and Hospital council of the Adams County Red Cross.

G-H RAILWAY GIVEN DISPLAY

The Gettysburg-Harrisburg railroad receives signal honors in the January edition of the Reading Railroad magazine, publication of the Reading company for its thousands of employees.

The branch railroad is given a two-page picture display in the middle of the magazine, top position in any publication of that type. "Along the Harrisburg and Gettysburg Branch" is the title of the display which shows the station at Gettysburg, and pictures of Earl F. Harman, Gettysburg yard clerk, checking cars, and Gilbert Tate, agent-telegrapher at Gardners at work.

Henry W. Garvin, agent; C. E. Mehring, billing clerk, and F. R. Worthington, chief clerk at Gettysburg, are shown looking over their books. O. R. Faust, clerk-telegrapher, is shown handing a message to G. W. Smith, the agent at Biglerville, while J. H. Slaybaugh, clerk, and S. E. Kapp, warehouse foreman, at Biglerville, are pictured totaling figures on an adding machine. Hazel Cronister, messenger at Biglerville, is shown leaving the station there. Elmer Griffith and Melvin Reynolds, sectionmen, and Harvey Heller, foreman, are shown at work on a section of track at Gardners. Other illustrations are of C. P. Turley, agent-telegrapher, Starner; D. C. Wort, agent-telegrapher, Hunters Run, and O. D. Wierman, towerman at Carlisle Junction.

COUNTIAN MARKS 89TH BIRTHDAY

Bendersville's oldest inhabitant, Mrs. Louisa Ellen Blocher, affectionately known to her friends as "Lou," Tuesday celebrated her 89th birthday anniversary.

Mrs. Blocher was born and has always lived in Bendersville. She is a devoted and consistent reader of The Gettysburg Times and an ardent radio fan, thus keeping in touch with current events while at the same time attending to her daily chores and household affairs. All day long Mrs. Blocher's friends and neighbors in Bendersville and the upper end of the county showered her with gifts and congratulations, and she tells all of them that they might as well reconcile themselves to this sort of thing because she is going to reach the century mark.

Greets Santa At Pearl Harbor

Lieut. (jg) Chaplain Robert M. Hunt, pastor of the Gettysburg Presbyterian church who has been on military leave for more than a year as a Navy chaplain, is shown greeting Santa Claus on Christmas Day at Pearl Harbor when Saint Nick came aboard the baby flattop, USS Saldor, on which the Gettysburg pastor serves.

AMVETS STUDY HOUSING PLAN FOR VETS HERE

Gettysburg's AMVET post today continued its plans to help fellow veterans by constructing a temporary structure on the Max Davis lot on West Middle street where returning veterans studying at Gettysburg college might find living quarters.

Just how far the program will proceed was still a matter of conjecture, but the organization of World War II ex-servicemen this week planned to send a delegation to Baltimore to meet with Mr. Davis in regard to his proposal to give a lot for such a structure, while other members sounded out the possibility of obtaining a used prefabricated barracks or other structure to be placed on the lot when and if it is available.

Reports on the progress of the investigators will be made at the next meeting, January 29, at the Legion home.

Discussion of the possibilities of providing housing for the veterans occupied much of the meeting Tuesday night in the Legion building. The possibility of establishing some types of organized sports activities for the AMVET members was discussed with the entertainment committee comprising Charles Karas, John Keller, Francis Thomas, Simon Sanders and William Epley asked to provide a complete report at the next session on the facilities that can be obtained for various sports activities.

Voting to hold the charter of the organization open indefinitely for 65 members so far decided that it would be "unfair to the great number of servicemen and women who have not as yet returned" to close the charter at the present time. John E. Cato and G. H. Roth were named as new members at the meeting.

The secretary was ordered to send a letter to each member urging him to attend the next session when in addition to the other business election of officers will be held. Lawrence Hinkle presided at Tuesday's session.

PROMOTED IN ARMY RESERVE

Murray B. Frazee, of Gettysburg, newly appointed assistant county treasurer, has learned that he now holds a commission as lieutenant colonel in the Army of the United States.

The promotion, from major to lieutenant colonel, was effective November 16, 1945, when Mr. Frazee was on terminal leave. He thus holds the rank in the Army Reserve corps.

TWO CHIMNEY FIRES
Flaming chimneys caused the Gettysburg fire company work Sunday and Monday. Monday at 6:45 o'clock the company was called to extinguish a chimney blaze at the POS of A home on Chambersburg street. Sunday morning at 9:13 o'clock the firemen were called to the home of William King, Hunters-town, only to find that Mr. King had taken care of the fire prior to their arrival.

REQUEST FROM TAX COLLECTOR IS 'PREMATURE'

The financial aspects of the town's school system occupied most of the time of the Gettysburg school board at a brief session Monday evening at the high school. J. Herbert Weikert, the school board's tax collector, appeared to urge the return of the tax collector's commission rate to 2 1/2 per cent. The present rate is 2 per cent. He also pointed out that a number of changes have been made in the duplicate presented him, as a result of investigations made by himself, which disclosed a number of errors in the original duplicate. The amount of taxes is now over $58,000. Tax Collector Weikert was told that his request for the raise which he wished to take effect next year, was "a little premature." The board stated that it would consider the matter when the new duplicate is prepared this summer.

Financial Reports
An involved discussion concerning renewal of several tax liens on properties took up much of the remainder of the session which closed when Ira Williams appeared to take a picture of the board for the high school annual.

The monthly financial report disclosed expenditures of $9,783.78 during the last month including $467.18 for general control; $8,108.70 for instruction; $359.12, for auxiliary agencies and $749.68 for operation of the plant. The other $90.10 went for maintenance of the schools.

Receipts included a balance of $51,599.93 from the previous month, delinquent taxes of $995.90, tuition of $2,792.12 and $150.81 collected from other sources. The balance as of January 12 was listed as $45,704.78.

The sinking fund balance was given as $3,343.15 with the payment of $80 out of the fund during the month. The cafeteria's worth as of January 1 was given as $3,258.85 with the profit for December listed as $55.26. Expenditures during the month for the cafeteria were $294.81 and deposits totaled $451.18.

Gilbert Bell Is Hurt In Accident

Gilbert Bell, Milwaukee, Wis., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Bell, Ardenstville, formerly of Gettysburg, was seriously injured in an automobile accident last Friday in Columbus, Ohio, and now is confined to a hospital there suffering from a hip injury, a fracture of the pelvis, a sprained knee and a cut on his forehead.

COLLEGE TAKES 3 FRAT HOUSES FOR VETERANS

Gettysburg college, moving to provide housing for the approximately 175 returned war veterans who wish to continue studies interrupted by the war, Tuesday took over three fraternity houses as a measure to ease the lack of rooming facilities.

Dr. W. E. Tilberg, dean of the college, announced that the ATO fraternity house on North Washington street; the SAE house on West Lincoln avenue and the Phi Psi house on the college campus have been taken over by the college for use in housing the veterans.

2 Houses Occupied
Donald R. Warrenfeltz, a student at the college, his wife and children who now occupy the SAE house will have to move.

Major and Mrs. John C. Hollinger and daughter occupy the Phi Psi house. Major Hollinger is the head of the military department at the college. They, likewise, will have to move to make room for the incoming veterans.

The ATO house is not presently occupied.

So far 95 returned veterans are now at the college and at least 175 more have signed to start at the beginning of the second semester, January 28.

The three fraternity houses had been used previously by the college, during the period when Army Air Force students were being trained here. At that time the ATO and SAE houses were being used to house civilian students and the Phi Psi was employed as an infirmary for army personnel.

Ceds Use 5 Houses
With approximately 485 students at the college at the present time and with the women students occupying five of the fraternity houses, the problem of housing the male students has increased with the arrival of veterans to take up their studies once more. Civilian families occupy the other fraternity houses.

Much of the housing shortage for the male students will disappear when the fraternity houses are turned back to the fraternities probably in September, college officials explained Tuesday. But at the same time the housing situation for the female students will become more acute as they vacate their present homes to allow the return of the men to their fraternities.

Because of the needs of the students, particularly of the returned veterans for housing, the college continues to ask all persons who may have rooms available to contact the college, it was stated.

VICTOR BUYS LOCAL PLANT

The Victor Products Corporation of Pennsylvania has purchased the plant on North Washington street where it has operated since 1942 from the O'Sullivan Rubber company, former owners and operators of the establishment.

Purchase price was listed as $40,250 for the building and equipment.

Roy P. Funkhouser is president and general manager of the Victor Products corporation of Pennsylvania; Ray M. Hoffman, vice president and treasurer, and Miss Nina Merrow, secretary. The Pennsylvania company was organized in 1942 and the local plant was divorced at that time from the Victor Products Corporation of Maryland, of which Mr. Funkhouser is vice president.

Plans for future expansion of the concern are still undetermined but the corporation purchased a property adjoining the present plant in June 1943. At that time it was announced that the purchase was made to provide for post-war building.

Town Seeks Funds To Fight By-Pass Roads; Want No. 30 Improved

Gettysburg business men and all who profit by the battlefield tourist business will be asked, within a few days, to determine whether they desire to keep Gettysburg on Pennsylvania's "Main street," or see this "Main street" go 30 miles to the north.

They will be asked to contribute to a fund to fight extension of the Pennsylvania turnpike until the Lincoln highway, life-blood artery of Gettysburg, is completely modernized and improved. Contributions will be sought on the basis of how much the tourist business means to each one individually and to Gettysburg itself.

This was decided upon at a meeting of the Free Roads association committee of the Chamber of Commerce, in the chamber's rooms Monday night. Recognizing that Gettysburg is the most vitally affected town in this section of the state in the battle of toll roads versus free highways, the committee decided that financial backing should be at least $1,500, although this may be divided between the battle against the turnpike extension and an anticipated later fight for funds for the Lincoln highway.

May Be By-Passed
"We're on Main street now," Henry M. Scharf told other members of the committee. "It was a natural convergence of highways in Gettysburg that brought the battle here. Everything we have owe to that."

Gettysburg has always been on the main highway. If the turnpike is extended to Philadelphia, we will be way off the main artery," Mr. Scharf pointed out that Gettysburgians had learned, during gas rationing, how loss of tourist trade can affect the town.

Howard C. Mitinger, another speaker, declared that "my guess is that at least 20 per cent of the people here are directly and definitely affected by the tourist trade," and added that it had been estimated that this business brought $1,000,000 annually to Gettysburg. Other towns, both speakers said, are looking to Gettysburg for leadership in the fight against the turnpike extension.

Suggest Two Plans
"The only thing that can be done now is to mold public opinion against the trend toward development of thoroughway roads and this cannot be done without funds," members declared.

It was left to the co-chairmen, Glenn Guise and Donald Reel, to work out details of the fund solicitation. Two plans were suggested, the first, a proportionate share contribution, based on the amount of individual benefit, and the second, a straight $10 contribution from at least 150 individuals or businesses.

"If one town in Pennsylvania depends utterly and entirely upon highways, it is Gettysburg," Mr. Scharf declared.

Mr. Mitinger said that $346,000-000 is available in the state treasury for highways.

"What we are most concerned about is the improvement of the Lincoln highway. We are not against the present turnpike, but we say let us spend all the money available to improve existing highways. We don't want Gettysburg by-passed."

Map Displayed
The Philadelphia Inquirer was quoted as saying that Governor Martin in September had declared that the turnpike was to be extended from Middlesex to a point just below Philadelphia, and copies of a map published in the Inquirer September 24 were shown of the proposed route.

Attention was called to the immense tourist business of Pennsylvania and the many attractions which the state affords tourists, not the least of which is the battlefield here. Existing highways are both scenic and historical, it was asserted. With the construction of a superhighway across the state, such business from the west or from New York, New Jersey and New England would be funneled through the state, rather than attracted to it.

The turnpike was pointed to as a breeder of accidents and with more fatalities than any other highway in the state, Mr. Mitinger and Mr. Scharf quoted State Highway Secretary John U. Shroyer as saying that the only way the turnpike could be extended was by a 50 per cent federal subsidy, and "it must be understood that no paralleling free road can be modernized" to compete with it.

"Nine roads converge on the square," Mr. Mitinger said. "If they need improving, now is the time to say so."

Eliminate Bottlenecks
Mr. Mitinger said that if Gettysburg and other communities demand modernization of the Lincoln highway, they must do so with clean hands, referring to elimination of highway bottlenecks in towns.

"All we ask is the right of self determination," he said. "We ask the right to solve our own local problems. The time is here when the taxpayers and road-users have something to say about how their money is used. We want a permanent set-up, not a program for just this year, and we're going to ask the administration for a master plan for highways."

Mr. Scharf called attention to the postponement of improvement of the road between York Springs and the county line.

"The Gettysburg Times was told that this was the No. 1 major highway improvement on the program in Adams county this year," he said. "Then, the following day, it was announced that a survey had found that this road could be maintained for another year."

"Why isn't Route 15 to be improved this year? They've got the money," Mr. Scharf and Mr. Mitinger asked. "It is your job to go to your representative and ask him," Mr. Mitinger continued. "The same thing has happened on the Lincoln highway and will be repeated."

Now Is The Time
Mr. Scharf declared that if the state gives the people a modern, free highway alongside the turnpike, there is no question as to which road they will use.

"We're at the crossroads," Mr. Mitinger declared. "The political candidates are throwing their hats in the ring. Now is the time to do something."

The speakers said that several organizations are backing the fight against the turnpike extension, among them the Pennsylvania Truck association, the Property Owners association, the AAA and others.

"The idea has already been endorsed by the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce," Mr. Mitinger said. "The next thing is the financing."

'LAUNCH' HUGE NEW KILN AT ASPERS PLANT

One of the largest and most modern ceramic kilns in Pennsylvania was formally "launched" Monday afternoon at the Penn Ceramic Manufacturing company, incorporated, Aspers, when Mrs. Raymond Casclani, wife of the president of the concern, broke a bottle of champagne across its brick sides and started a celebration that lasted on into the evening.

The kiln, 127 feet long on the outside, and 110 feet on the inside was packed with 20 cars full of ceramic products ready for baking and will run 24 hours a day, 365 days a year baking 315 square feet of wall tile, 315 square feet of floor tile, 2,000 heating elements and 10,000 porcelain electrical pieces daily.

Every hour a new carload of materials is being placed in the pre-heating section of the kiln, and every hour a carful of completed pieces is being taken out of the cooling end.

Henry G. Begeman, general manager of the American Kiln and Furnace company of Grasmere, Staten Island, N. Y., builders of the kiln, was on hand formally to start the fires in the new kiln.

Edmund W. Thomas, president of The First National Bank of Gettysburg; Lloyd W. Kuhn, cashier of the Bendersville National bank; H. Earl Pitzer, Biglerville R. D.; and Edgar L. Deardorff, cashier of the First National Bank of Gettysburg, were among those who made brief remarks at a luncheon following the formal opening of the kiln. Others who spoke were Roy H. Brannin, New York city, who handles the export products of the Aspers plant; L. D. Oglesby, Atlanta, Ga., agent for domestic sales of the county plant; Peter Myer and Benjamin Speer of Lawrence Industries, New York; Hugo Casclani, son of the owner, and the engineer, Mr. Begeman, Nick Gottuso, shop superintendent at the Aspers plant, and William Stiles were the masters of ceremony.

Four students from Rutgers University, all students of ceramics, were present for the exercises. They were Hugo Casclani, Herbert Omlie, Evon Wells and Robert Fournet. Trombone Bill's orchestra provided entertainment for the party. Seventy-five employees and guests were present for the affair.

Chaplain will stay in army

Maj. Herman J. Kregel, Fairfield, division chaplain of the First Cavalry Division, has announced his intentions of remaining in the army after the emergency is over and has also expressed a desire to remain with the First Cavalry Division. He is now in Japan.

Overseas eight months, he is a veteran of one campaign, and wears the Asiatic-Pacific theatre ribbon with one star for Luzon, the Philippine Liberation ribbon with one star, the occupational ribbon for Japan and the Victory ribbon.

As a civilian he attended Iowa Central college, and has a B.A. degree. Later he was employed as sports editor for the Waupun Daily News, Wisconsin, and the Forestville Reformed church, Ringle, Wis.

His parents, the Rev. and Mrs. John H. Kregel reside in Wisconsin, and his wife, Hilda, and three children, Karen, John, and David, reside in Fairfield.

Now he has assumed the duties of technician at the Warner hospital making use, as a civilian, of the skills taught him in the army during the last four years.

He succeeds Miss Marian Holler to the post of laboratory technician at the hospital.

LARGE TURNOUT IS URGED FOR R. C. MEETING

Officials of the Adams County Red Cross Chapter hope that all members of the organization will attend the annual meeting to be held January 28 in Christ Lutheran church social rooms, Gettysburg.

Everyone who donated $1 or more during the last drive for funds is a member, it was pointed out, and every member is sought to vote in the forthcoming election of officers when for the first time since about 1921 Mrs. E. S. Lewars will not be available for another term as chairman.

Mrs. Lewars, internationally famous as an author and one of Gettysburg's most distinguished citizens, is one of the few most responsible for the development of the county Red Cross. She assisted in the organization of the county chapter in 1917 and was its first secretary.

After helping guide the county Red Cross through two wars Mrs. Lewars asked to be relieved of the heavy duties of chairman of the county chapter in a letter to the executive board recently.

Her letter said: "With a variety of emotions, I hereby resign my proud position as chairman of our chapter of the American Red Cross, my resignation to take effect at the next annual meeting. The responsibility has sometimes seemed heavy, but the association with those interested in works of mercy, both in and out of our organization has outweighed what could never have been called a burden."

"A nominating committee, to name officers and members of a larger executive board than we have had up to this time, has been appointed and is at work. The election will be held at the time of our annual meeting in January."

"Sincerely and gratefully yours, Elsie Singmaster Lewars." Because of the need for replacing Mrs. Lewars with a new chairman and the plan to enlarge the executive board, the heads of the county organization are urging all members to turn out.

R. C. HEADS TO ATTEND AREA MEET IN YORK

Officials of the Adams County Red Cross will meet January 28 at York with representatives from ten other chapters to review statewide plans for the annual fund raising campaign of the Red Cross and to secure more information for the local drive scheduled to begin March 1.

Chapters from Columbia, Hanover, Waynesboro, Franklin, Shippenburg, Carlisle, Mechanicsburg, Steelton, Lebanon and Middletown will be represented at York along with the York and the Adams County chapters.

Meantime the local chapter was going ahead with plans for its drive for funds.

Jockey Sentenced In Shooting Case

Jack Favorite, 18, Emmitsburg jockey, was fined $15 and costs and given a suspended sentence of three months in the Maryland House of Correction at a hearing before Justice of the Peace Joseph K. Ash, Emmitsburg, Friday on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon which resulted after a state police probe into the shooting of George Ott, 17, Emmitsburg, on November 24.

Ott was wounded in the left leg, near the groin, when Favorite pulled a .32 calibre revolver from his pocket and started "playing" with it at a service station on Route 15, near Emmitsburg. The gun discharged wounding Ott.

The shooting was officially listed as accidental.

Charges against Favorite for carrying a concealed weapon were laid by State Trooper Richard E. Myers, of the Maryland state police.

THREE WOMEN, SIX PRISONERS HURT IN CRASH

Nine persons were injured, none critically, at 5:05 p. m. Thursday, when a school bus returning 25 employees of the Knouse corporation, Peach Glen, to their homes, sideswiped a truck transporting 23 prisoners of war to the PW camp at Gettysburg, on a curve at the edge of Bendersville.

Alda H. Knouse, Biglerville R. D., was treated at the Warner hospital here for a severed tendon on a finger of her left hand. Ruth C. Wampler, Biglerville R. 1, and Elizabeth C. Black, same address, were treated at the scene by Dr. B. C. Jones of Bendersville for face lacerations.

To Arrest One Driver

State police, who investigated the accident, said the school bus was being operated by Glenn W. Martin, Biglerville R. 1, and the truck by Grayson P. Snowers, also of Biglerville R. 1. Police said Martin will be arrested and a charge of driving to the left of the center line of the highway will be laid before Justice of the Peace William Stough, Bendersville.

The windshield, grill and headlights of an automobile operated by J. Dale Shaeffer, Aspers R. 2, which was following the truck, were damaged by debris from the bus-truck collision, state police estimating the damage at $75. Damage to the bus was estimated at $500 and to the truck, $150.

The 23 prisoners being brought back to the Gettysburg camp were employed in cutting pulpwood near Bendersville. The injured were treated at the PW camp by Dr. C. G. Crist, and three of them, Bezold, Black and Hieber were taken to Indiantown Gap.

BIGHAM FINES PAIR MONDAY

U. S. Commissioner Franklin R. Bigham imposed two fines and withheld decision in a third case when three defendants appeared before him for hearings Monday afternoon on charges brought against them by National Park officials.

Paul A. Snyder, of Gettysburg, pleaded guilty to charges of driving on the battlefield "in excess of 25 miles per hour" and to driving his auto onto sold along an avenue. He was fined $10 and costs.

Richard Hankey, Gettysburg R. D., charged with allowing his dog to run at large on Little Round Top, was found guilty following a hearing and fined $5 and costs.

The commissioner withheld his decision following a hearing on a charge of allowing his dog to run at large brought against Bradley Rosensteel, of Gettysburg. Rosensteel claimed that his dog was under his command at all times, coming to him any time he called for him.

The charges concerning the dogs were brought as part of a campaign to prevent dogs from chasing game, particularly deer, in the Round Top section.

Letters Issued In Three Estates

Letters of administration have been issued at the court house on three estates. Mrs. Salome Wachter Brehm, Gettysburg, was named administratrix of the estate of Besie M. Wachter, Cumberland township, who died December 6, after being struck by an automobile in Gettysburg.

Letters of administration on the estate of Walter R. Starnier, Conewago township, who died December 30, were issued to two cousins, Charles R. and Chester R. Sell, Hanover.

TEACHERS AND PUPILS ASKED TO SAVE DIMES

Mrs. Joseph E. Codori, chairman of the Infantile Paralysis committee for the January 30th party in the Hotel Gettysburg to raise money for the paralysis fund, has started the annual March of Dimes campaign.

In a letter to the school teachers of the county Mrs. Codori asked the instructors to have their pupils fill the March of Dime cards to help raise more money. The letters, which were mailed today, read as follows: "Again we are called upon this year to raise funds to combat the dreaded infantile paralysis plague that annually strikes this country."

What we do now may save the lives of many of our youngsters in the future. Adams county, as you are well aware, has been severely plagued by this disease on several occasions.

"As in the past several years I have appealed to you to help us raise funds through the March of Dimes campaign . . . the drive to collect ten cents from each school pupil in the county. Your response in the past has been magnificent."

"Our expenses during the past year have totaled almost $1,000 and for one county case we spent $552. I cite these instances to show how important it is that we raise a large amount of money each year."

"I am enclosing some March of Dimes cards. Won't you please make every effort to fill these cards with ten cent pieces and return them to me not later than January 26? I do appreciate all you have done and I feel certain I can depend upon you again this year."

EXTEND LEAVE FOR REV. HUNT

The leave of absence of Chaplain Robert M. Hunt, pastor of the Gettysburg Presbyterian church now serving in the Pacific as a Navy chaplain, was extended until September by the Carlisle Presbytery at its January session Monday in the Second Presbyterian church in Carlisle. The Rev. Mr. Hunt was granted his first leave one year ago.

The ministers and elders in session at Carlisle Monday incorporated into their permanent manual of law the ministerial salary minimum set temporarily at a previous meeting. Future calls of ministers to pulpits in this presbytery will stipulate a salary not less than $2,009 together with the free use of a manse.

The Gettysburg church and the Lower Marsh Creek Presbyterian church were among those in the Presbytery who received a citation from the General Assembly for meeting and exceeding the 1944-1945 Wartime Service Fund quota. The local church raised 111 per cent of its quota as compared with the Presbytery average of 109 per cent. Lower Marsh Creek also exceeded its goal.

Elder John K. Lott represented the local church Monday and the Rev. Harry S. Ecker, pastor of the Lower Marsh Creek Presbyterian church, and Dr. Ira Henderson, an elder, represented that congregation.

The Rev. Morton G. Gilse of the Paxton Presbyterian church, was elected as the new moderator of the presbytery.

GIRL SCOUTS ADD 8 NEW MEMBERS

The newly-invested scouts are Gretchen Arnold, Bonnie Bryson, Eileen Curley, Shirley Downes, Susan Lighter, Marian Moser and Joan Sanders. Rosalie Kidwell, who was unable to attend the investiture service last spring, also received her pin Monday.

Plans were announced for a Girl Scout uniform pool which will enable girls to purchase locally uniforms that are outgrown or of no further use to former Girl Scouts. Mrs. Richard Lighter, troop committee member, will be in charge of the uniform project.

Furniture renovation work being conducted by the Handymen badge group in the troop is nearing completion. The troop is planning to furnish and equip a meeting room of its own.

Preparations are going forward for the county-wide court of awards to be held here May 25 when the local Girl Scout troops will be hostesses to 250 scouts from other county communities. Further expansion of Girl Scouting in the county await only additional leaders, troop committeewomen said today. There is a waiting list of girls ready to enter Girl Scout troops.

PLEADS GUILTY

S. Sgt. K. J. Smith Is Coming Home

S. Sgt. K. J. Smith, McSherrytown, left Pearl Harbor December 29 aboard the U. S. S. Saratoga enroute to the United States for discharge. The ship was due to reach San Francisco early this month. It carried 3,750 high-point navy veterans due for discharges.

The Saratoga, a carrier of the navy's famed "magic carpet" fleet, had a long and illustrious battle record. Officially reported sunk by the Japs seven times, the "Sara" took part in every major sea engagement, and blasted the empire to its very doorstep.

ROTARIANS TOLD ABOUT HEALING ARTS PROGRAM

The work of the county Healing Arts Advisory committee was outlined Monday evening to the Gettysburg Rotarians at their regular meeting in the YWCA building.

Mrs. Verna Myers, executive director of the Adams County Board of Public Assistance, was the principal speaker, detailing the work of the committee in assisting the county board to provide the best possible medical and dental care for those receiving assistance.

Dr. C. Harold Johnson, president of the healing arts group; Frank Britcher, secretary, and Dr. Chester N. Gitt, dental member of the committee, also spoke on the various parts of the program.

The work of the committee consists principally in advising the county assistance board in the medical and dental care of the 1,511 persons currently on the assistance rolls. During the year from November, 1944, to December, 1945, an average of $3.35 per person was spent for medical and dental care for the indigent.

Members of the committee spoke on how the program has developed, with those eligible for assistance now able to obtain not only fillings for their teeth, but new dentures. When the program started only extractions were allowed, Doctor Gitt said. Mr. Britcher outlined the development of the program from the pharmacist's viewpoint, with the druggist now allowed to provide any standard drug or medicine upon the doctor's recommendation.

Forty-one members and guests attended the session at which the first magazines to be collected for the county library were turned over to a magazine committee chairman, Franklin R. Bigham.

OFFICERS HERE TO STUDY 'FIELD

"Gettysburg battlefield remains as an example of terrain appreciation and fundamental tactics, in spite of the development of new weapons, and experiences on new battlefields," Lt. Col. John Embich, Carlisle, instructor in charge of a group of 15 officers of the Edgewood Arsenal, Chemical Warfare Center, near Baltimore, declared Friday on a visit to the battlefield.

Colonel Embich, a graduate of Gettysburg college, class of 1917, brought a class of officers in military history from the arsenal here to study the battlefield. The group included a class of teachers in the chemical warfare center. Additional trips to the battlefield on a more extended scale by other officer classes are planned later in the year. Colonel Embich said. The group had luncheon at noon today at the Hotel Gettysburg.

Among the group, besides Colonel Embich, were Lt. Col. William Foley, field service department; Lt. Col. Nelson McKaig, protection branch; and Lt. F. G. Kilek, supervisory branch, all of the center.

After taking the group over the battlefield, as a part of the military history course at the arsenal, Colonel Embich declared that "the general principle of warfare still remain the same" as in Civil War days.

Snyder on January 8 on a disorderly conduct charge, and released in $500 bail for court January 28 on a charge of obstructing an officer in the performance of a legal process, Kuykendall was arrested at 7 o'clock Wednesday morning on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

DIVORCE LIBEL IS FILED HERE

A libel in divorce was filed Saturday in the office of Prothonotary Arthur H. Shields by Betty Jane Carter, Gettysburg, against Robert L. Carter, also of Gettysburg, charging indignities to the person. The couple was married September 13, 1942.

Also filed was a divorce libel brought by Walter R. Goldsmith, Gettysburg R. 1, against Lura Belle (Simpson) Goldsmith, New Orleans, in which desertion is charged. The libellant alleged that his wife left him August 31, 1943.

Judge W. C. Sheely granted the motion of Atty. Franklin R. Bigham, master in the divorce action of John E. Warehime against Ruby E. Warehime for revocation of appointment as master. Proceedings in the action were stayed by the court May 27, 1944 on the respondent's petition for counsel fees and alimony.

EVANGELISM DEFINED FOR SYNOD PASTORS

Evangelism was defined for 40 members of the Merceusburg Synod Tuesday afternoon by Dr. Fred C. Schweinfurth, Cleveland, Ohio, executive secretary of the Commission on Evangelism of the Evangelical and Reformed church, as "a presentation of Christ as the personal Savior, and the master of our real, living lives."

The afternoon session of the synod meeting in the Gettysburg Trinity Evangelical Reformed church was given over largely to a discussion of evangelism and a question and answer hour, with Dr. Schweinfurth in charge.

Closer Relationship

A closer relationship between the church school and the church itself was advocated, with classes of instruction for teachers and leaders conducted by the pastor. The emphasis of evangelism was placed on the church obtaining new members through "first decisions" rather than in seeking members by letter from other churches, although Dr. Schweinfurth declared that the emphasis should not be so much in what church an individual attended as on the fact that he was a church member.

The Reformed church in the United States has a goal of 660,000 members, according to Dr. Schweinfurth. Dr. B. D. Reen, York, treasurer of the synod, reported that the financial apportionment was $4.6 but that the synod is still $2,090 short of its goal.

The afternoon session closed with the benediction by the Rev. Howard S. Fox, pastor of the host church.

COMMISSIONERS RAISE TAX RATE 2 MILLS TO PAY FOR NEW PRISON

The county tax rate for 1946, fixed by the Adams county commissioners at their meeting at the court house Wednesday, will be six and a half mills per dollar of assessed valuation, which is two mills higher than the 1945 rate.

The increase was fixed by the commissioners to provide an approximate $34,000 for the erection of a new county jail, to be added to the existing jail construction fund of $79,000.

The commissioners fixed the poor fund tax rate at two mills, which is the same as for 1945.

Jail Plans Approved
Plans for the new jail, with the exception of some slight changes, and a site along the Biglerville road, on the county farm, have been approved by the Pennsylvania Department of Public Welfare, according to Clarence C. Smith, chief clerk in the commissioners' office. The commissioners will include $110,000 in the budget this year for the jail, although Mr. Smith said the architect, J. Alfred Hamme, York, believes the jail can be built for $100,000.

Plans call for a jail of 32 cells, an office and living quarters for the sheriff or warden, and matron.

Mr. Smith said that the jail plans had progressed now to the point where Architect Hamme believed that contracts could be let in March.

No Petition Presented
Although considerable opposition has been heard against locating the new jail on the Biglerville road site, Mr. Smith said today no petition has been received at the commissioners' office.

Those opposing the poor farm location contend that the site is adjacent to one of the borough's best residential sections; and that it faces property purchased by Gettysburg college for future expansion. It is also contended that utilization of the present site would leave the jail at a location more convenient to the court house.

Arguments in favor of the Biglerville road site are that land is available, already owned by the county, and that prisoners would be available for use in working the poor house farm. It is also pointed out that the High street site could be sold, the price being estimated at $10,000. It has a frontage of approximately 180 feet.

By actual check-up, more than 150 servicemen from the Fairfield area are already back in civilian life. The community honor roll in front of the First National bank, Fairfield, carries about 260 names.

TROJANS HALT MAROON QUINT BY 34-28 SCORE

Gettysburg high school's hopes for a South Penn league title were given a rude jolt Friday evening when the defending champions, Chambersburg, handed the Maroons a 34-28 reverse on the Trojan court before an over-flow crowd which included many local fans.

The triumph was the second straight loop decision for Chambersburg and marked the opening of the league season for Gettysburg. The same teams meet here on February 8 in what may well decide the southern division title.

From start to finish the game was hotly contested. Neither team could break into the scoring in the early minutes of the game. A trio of goals by Leisher, single tallies by Gillespie and Palmer coupled with a foul shot by Palmer gave Chambersburg an 11-7 advantage at the close of the first period. The Maroons' points came on goals by Raffensperger, Rasmussen and Gorman and a free toss by Gorman.

Maroons Forge Ahead

Coach Forney's lads picked up a point on their opponents in the second period when they outscored the Trojans 7-6 to trail 17-11 at half time. Gettysburg tallies came on a pair of twin-pointers by Heintzelman and one by Gorman together with a charity throw by Heintzelman. Gillespie and Leisher connected from the field for Chambersburg while Young and Sellers converted foul tosses.

The Maroons made their strongest bid for victory in the third period and early in the round took a 3-point lead but fell behind 25-24 at the end of the quarter. Gorman landed a pair of goals, Hess one with Rasmussen looped two fouls and Hess and Raffensperger one each. Palmer spear-headed the Chambersburg offense with three goals.

Gettysburg's offense in the last quarter consisted of goals by Rasmussen and Gorman while Chambersburg pulled into a comfortable lead on two tosses by Palmer, one by Sellers and another by Leisher and a foul by Gillespie.

Scrubs Bow

Palmer paced the winners with 13 points while Gorman looped 11 to lead the locals.

The Chambersburg reserves won easily from the Maroons in the preliminary affair 44-24. At half time Coach Ridinger's lads trailed 19-14.

Tonight the Maroons will open a four-game home stand by meeting Waynesboro here in another division game.

Blame Mechanism Failure For Crash

Failure of a windshield wiper to work during Wednesday morning's rain led to a two car collision on the Hanover-Cross Keys road at Bittling, according to state police.

No one was injured and damage was estimated at $40 when cars driven by Charles Givens, 75, Hanover R. 3, and Kenneth Klinedinst, 21, Spring Grove R. 3, collided. State Trooper James Walsh, who is conducting his investigation, said Givens' windshield wiper failed to work and that the Hanover R. 3 man drove to the wrong side of the highway, hitting the Klinedinst car.

BULLETS WHIP DIPLOMATS FOR 6TH STRAIGHT

"Hen" Bream's Gettysburg college courtmen retained their position with the nation's undefeated teams by defeating Franklin and Marshall at Lancaster Wednesday evening 49-41 in a rough game.

The victory marked the sixth straight for the Bullets who will go after their seventh straight here Saturday night against the highly-touted Mechanicsburg Naval Supply team.

The Bullets got off to an 11-8 lead in the first period and thereafter were never seriously threatened, their lead ranging from six to 11 points until the final whistle. At half time Gettysburg led 21-15.

Tanzl, sharp-shooting Diplomat forward, kept his team in the running by cutting the cords for 18 points, many of his goals coming from difficult angles.

Play of the local team was handicapped throughout by the narrow Diplomat court and many fouls resulted. F. and M. showed marked ability by caging 17 of 22 free throw attempts. The Bullets converted 13 of 25.

Spike Kazkowski and Joe Howard played excellent floor games with the former carrying off the scoring honors with 13 tallies while Howard landed 12.

WAVE DISCHARGED

Josephine Virginia Weikert, Pharmacists' Mate 2/c, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Weikert, Gettysburg, was discharged from the U. S. Naval Personnel Separation Center, Washington, D. C., on Thursday. She entered service January 6, 1944, and was last on duty at Cape May, N. J.

CAR INSPECTION, DRIVERS' CARDS DUE FEBRUARY 1

All cars must be inspected and all operators' licenses renewed by midnight, January 31, or those failing to comply may run afoul of the law. Secretary of Revenue David W. Carlisle declared today.

In a statement urging immediate compliance with the provisions of the Motor Vehicle Code, Secretary Harris said:

"A double deadline confronts motor vehicle owners and operators as well at midnight, Thursday, January 31. By that hour the vehicle owner must have had the car inspected and a new sticker on the windshield to legally operate it, and the motor vehicle operator must have had his operating privilege renewed to drive legally. It is the law and violation of those provisions of the Motor Vehicle Code will bring severe punishment. There will be no extension of either the inspection or licensing periods, so those owners and operators who are carelessly delaying until the last minute to comply with the law may find themselves in an embarrassing position on February 1. That is particularly so where inspection is concerned. Official stations still do not have the help or the parts to cope with last minute congestion.

"Prompt compliance with law is good citizenship. Carelessness in regard to any one of the motor law provisions encourages disregard for all of them, and it has been that carelessness which has been responsible for the needless killing and maiming of so many of our citizens on the streets and highways. Car inspection is enforced in the interest of safety. A vehicle safe mechanically means a safe journey for a careful driver. The operator's license is a privilege extended to citizens who qualify to drive safely and legally, and that privilege must not be violated. If it is, the full penalty of the law will be invoked. The lives of our citizens must be and will be protected."

DECORATED VET GETS DISCHARGE

T-Set, Eugene Herring, son of Mrs. Annie Herring, 118 Carlisle street, has received his discharge from the armed forces after spending a year and a half in the Pacific with the 32nd "Red Arrow" Division which piled up a record of over 15,000 hours of combat time.

Inducted February 8, 1943, he left the states in April, 1944, after receiving training at Camp Howze, Texas, and Camp Livingston, Louisiana. Attached to the Red Arrow Division he took part in three major battles in New Guinea, Leyte and Luzon.

Winner of the bronze star for meritorious action on the field, Sergeant Herring also is entitled to wear the Pacific Asiatic theater ribbon with three stars, the Philippine liberation ribbon with two stars, presidential citation ribbon, American defense and victory ribbons, the expert infantry badge and the good conduct medal.

A veteran of battles at Aitape, Leyte in the southern Philippines and Luzon, all with the 127 Infantry Regiment, Sergeant Herring saw service both in steaming jungles and high in mountains during the campaigns. A platoon sergeant, most of his job consisted of "digging out Japs," he states.

War Service Aided Racial Relations, Chaplain Says Here

Negro and white troops "received communion together, prayed together and fought together" and as a result found a new proof of the brotherhood between men during the recent war, Capt. Collins S. Lee, Chicago, Ill., said Sunday at a service in St. Paul's A.M.E. Zion church, South Washington street.

An army chaplain in both the European and Pacific theaters of war, Captain Lee became a close friend of John Myers and Charles Timbers, both of Gettysburg, both of whom served under him in Europe. Myers was bugler, blowing the call for services throughout the time the chaplain served in Europe.

There is great hope for peace in the future, but it is several generations away, Chaplain Lee asserted. Racial differences were forgotten in battle, with colored troops and white troops fighting side by side and both learning that the American is an excellent fighting man and a good companion despite race, creed or color. The chaplain visited Rome where he shook hands with Pope Pius and visited the catacombs where the early Christians worshipped. He also secured a bottle of water from the River Jordan.

PROSPECTS OF JOBS FOR VETS FAIRLY BRIGHT

Adams county veterans returning from the services are finding the employment picture, while not glittering in its possibilities, still fairly bright despite the absence of the high paying war production jobs that obtained during the past years.

Eleven of the county's concerns have been approved by the Veterans Administration to provide on-the-job or apprenticeship training to the veterans under the provisions of the GI Bill of Rights and additional establishments will be added to the list in the near future, according to the county office of the United States Employment Service.

In addition there are 555 jobs open in the county, although many of them are requests for female labor, according to the lists available at the USES.

Pay For Apprentices

A majority of the posts are in the pulpwood industry which is undermanned in the county, and which few, if any veterans seem to prefer. A total of 4,000 letters were sent out by the USES to persons in the county telling of the prospects for employment, either full or part time in the cutting and handling of pulp wood, but those wanting the jobs were few.

On-the-job training for the men, as well as the apprenticeship training program provides under the GI Bill subsidies for the veterans' wages during the period of his training. The approved employing firm pays the veteran its regular apprenticeship wage and the government, through the Veterans Administration, adds a monthly sum sufficient to bring the veteran's pay up to that of a skilled worker in the trade he is studying. As the veteran progresses in his apprenticeship and his wages increase the government subsidy decreases.

Top authorized subsidy for a single veteran is $65 a month and $90 a month for a married veteran. A maximum training period is established for each trade or skill. Employers receive project approval through the USES while veterans receive approval for training through the Veterans' Administration.

Approved List

It was pointed out by the local employment office however that most of the approved employers of the county have already hired their quota of apprentices, and all veterans who desire on-the-job or apprenticeship training should first contact the local USES to determine where there are openings.

The firms approved for apprenticeship training so far include:

The United Telephone company, Timmins Electric, Times and News Publishing company, Keystone Tree Surgeons and Glenn C. Bream garage, all of Gettysburg; Littlestown Hardware and Foundry, Keystone Cabinet, I. H. Crouse and Sons, and Stanley Stover Electrical company, all of Littlestown, and the Cannon Shoe company and E. C. Livingston Shoe company, both of New Oxford.

TWO VETERANS RETURN TO HS DESKS IN COUNTY

So far only two of the Adams county youths who were called into service before completing their high school education have returned to their desks to finish their secondary school education, a survey of the schools disclosed Thursday.

A third former student was scheduled for an interview with the principal at Littlestown high school Thursday afternoon to determine how many credits he may have secured in army service prior to possible return to the Littlestown high school.

Both of the men who are back in high school are attending East Berlin high school; both plan to continue through college in order to become physical education teachers; both were former star athletes at East Berlin, and both are barred from playing on the East Berlin teams by the PIAA due to their ages.

Some Study in Service

In addition approximately 35 county youths are continuing their studies while in the armed forces through the extension courses provided by the U. S. Armed Forces Institute, according to estimates provided by the principals of the various high schools of the county.

One former student at Fairfield, Edward Myers, who completed two years work there is expected to receive a high school equivalent diploma from Fairfield in the near future, provided the state department of education agrees with Fairfield officials on accrediting for work performed in service. Myers, now in Los Angeles, California, took air conditioning and other courses from the Armed Forces Institute while in the armed forces. As a result of those studies he can secure employment in California, he told Fairfield authorities, provided he holds a high school diploma. According to the Fairfield principal, Alton White, Myers' armed forces' education appears to provide sufficient credits for the diploma to be awarded.

Dozen Games Scheduled For County Cagers

Another full schedule of games faces county cagers during the current week with the undefeated Gettysburg college cagers scheduled for a pair of tilts.

On Saturday night Coach Bream's lads will meet the Mechanicsburg Naval Depot outfit here.

Gettysburg high school plays but one game this week, meeting Waynesboro here Friday night in a South Penn league game. The Maroons must sweep the remaining loop games in order to remain in the running for the league title as a result of their setback at the hands of Chambersburg last Friday.

Gettysburg's Boy Scouts collected four tons of scrap paper Saturday afternoon in the January salvage drive.

Thirty-two members of four Gettysburg troops took part in the collection, Dr. Frederick Tilberg, chairman of the drive said Monday. The proceeds from sale of the paper will be divided among the various troops with the share for each troop being based on the number of scouts from the troop taking part in the collection.

SUPPLIES OF PENICILLIN HARD PRESSED

Supplies of penicillin, the new remedy used for colds, grip, influenza and pneumonia, are adequate for the present, Gettysburg drug stores said Tues., but the future is a question mark. Whether supplies will continue to be sufficient depends principally on two things - availability from manufacturers, and demand.

The prevalence of colds and grip in late November and early December, and again more recently with the mild and rainy weather, has placed a big strain on available supplies of penicillin, this and the fact that penicillin is replacing the sulphadiazine in the treatment of such ailments.

One Gettysburg drug store said its supply was adequate "for some time" unless an unusually heavy demand depleted its stock. Another said that it had enough on hand at the present, but "how long we can take care of current demands we don't know." A third said it had experienced difficulty in obtaining penicillin from manufacturers, but had been able to get "enough to meet demands." Some manufacturers have been forced to "ration" their supply, a druggist said.

Only On Prescription

Penicillin can only be obtained at drug stores on a doctor's prescription. It is available at the Warner hospital for treatment of hospital patients, but cannot be purchased for use outside the hospital, authorities said. Here also the supply is sufficient for all but extraordinary demands, it was said.

One drug store said Tuesday that the demand for penicillin has more than tripled in the last month. Three reasons were advanced: Greater availability of penicillin than during the war, when almost all of it was taken by the armed forces; acceptance by the medical profession after tests showed it to be less toxic in its after effects than sulphadiazine, and the increase in the number of cases of colds and grip in recent weeks.

The near-epidemic in late November and early December was followed by a falling off in the number of such cases in Gettysburg. Then with several days of mild weather and rains the trend was upward again. The demand is on the wane again now.

Three Types Of Drug

Principal reason, druggists say, that it is difficult for manufacturers to keep up with the demand at the present time is the fact that it takes 90 days for penicillin cultures to mature. As facilities for its preparation are increased, adequate supplies at all times will be available, they said.

Gettysburgians have their choice of three types of penicillin preparations. They may purchase throat tablets, or the penicillin may be taken orally, mixed with some other substance, or the penicillin may be injected with the use of a hypodermic needle. The units range from 500 to 100,000.

The penicillin has been found to be effective and better, in many instances, than sulphadiazine, but is more expensive. This tends to restrict its use in some cases. However, druggists say that with additional manufacturing facilities, the price will be lowered.

Lions Club Enjoys Motion Pictures

About 45 members of the Gettysburg Lions club enjoyed four reels of motion picture films Monday evening after their weekly dinner meeting at the Marine restaurant. Vice President Milton R. Rempel presided in the absence of the club president, Glenn L. Bream, who is in Florida.

Dr. R. D. Wickerham and R. W. Wentz arranged for the program. The first reel pictured a radio broadcast by John Charles Thomas. The second was on "Winter Sports"; the third, "Arctic Thrills," and the last was a musical featuring several popular dance bands.

BULLETS TRIM LEHIGH 61-38 FOR FIFTH WIN

Gettysburg college's undefeated basketball team displayed a strong scoring punch in upsetting Lehigh 61-38 here Saturday night in the opening Middle Atlantic conference game for the Bullets.

A near capacity crowd, the largest to see a home Bullets cage game in four years, saw the Bream-men win their fifth straight with surprising ease.

Saturday's performance by the Bullets was by far their best this season on the local floor. The entire starting group played nice games with Plank and Welliver each tabbing 14 points to pace the scoring. Howard, Kaczowski and Herr played outstanding floor games.

Lehigh Scores First

Lehigh enjoyed its only leads early in the opening round when K. Rehner netted a pair of free throws and F. Rehner duplicated. After nearly three minutes of play had elapsed Davey Plank landed a long toss and half a minute later Joe Howard tied the count with a pretty one-hander. Belmonte put the Engineers out in front for the final time with a long toss. Howard landed a "peep" and then the Bullets went ahead 7-6 on a foul by Welliver and were never headed thereafter. Goals by Welliver and Plank put the Bullets ahead 14-9 at the end of the period.

Kaczowski, Welliver, Howard and Plank each hit the cords for scores in the second quarter as the Bullets hiked their margin to 32-17 at half time.

Reserves Appear

In the third quarter the Bullets continued to send their lead rocketing and at the opening of the final round Gettysburg was on top 43-25.

Coach Bream made good use of the one-sided contest to give all members of his squad a bit of action.
